

PROFESSIONAL STATEMENT

This Professional Statement is to be read in conjunction with the Agreement To Accept Professional Counselling Consultation Charges

1 LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY

GOSLING INTERNATIONAL is committed to protecting your privacy and security of your personal data. All consultations will be conducted in a professional manner where privacy and confidentiality are assured. Disclosure of confidential information may need to be reported to the appropriate persons or agencies, including Australian Courts and legal counsel, where the client

- 1 threatens suicide.
- 2 threatens harm to another person(s), including murder, assault, or other physical harm.
- 3 is a minor (under 18) and reports suspected child abuse, including but not limited to, physical beatings and sexual abuse.
- 4 reports abuse of the elderly.
- 5 is involved in a legal, including marital, dispute.
- 6 defaults in paying their outstanding account and the account is handed to an agency for collection.

2 PROFESSIONAL COUNSELLING CONSULTATIONS

GOSLING INTERNATIONAL assists clients seeking behavioural change or those experiencing personal distress and social and psychological problems through professional cognitive-behavioural counselling consultations and emotional leadership behavioural coaching.

Whilst the consultant will strive to assist clients with behavioural change or personal issues, the consultant will not be held responsible if a client's personal circumstances remain unchanged. Where ongoing referral is deemed necessary by the consultant, permission will be sought from the client (parent/guardian) for the case to be discussed.

3 PROFESSIONAL COUNSELLING CONSULTATION FEE SCHEDULE

Consultation fees are listed on the attached Professional Counselling Consultation Fee Schedule.

By signing here the counselling client(s) agrees to the Terms of this Professional Statement and gives prior and written consent to disclosure of confidential and privileged information from counselling consultations where so ordered to do so by the Courts of the Commonwealth of Australia or other Australian Government legal custodian or representative and further agrees to indemnify Gosling International and or its Directors and Consultants from liability in any attempt by the client or their legal counsel to enforce their rights and remedies via formal legal proceedings in the courts of Australia for disclosure of such confidential and privileged information made in accordance with this Professional Statement and the laws of the Commonwealth of Australia.
